THEY GET THE FIFTH AVENUE.

Rosenfeld Brothers Lease the Handsome Theatre.

English Actor's Advice-Other Stage News.

It has just leaked out that the Fifth the term of one year, beginning March Coopers Union No. 65, Brooklyn, has won its 12 next, by the Rosenfeld brothers, and strike, and all the strikers were taken back. 12 next, by the Rosenfeld brothers, and that they are preparing to take full charge of that house. Mr. Miner had intended to place a stock company in the Fifth Avenue Theatre, but, as already announced, he gave up that scheme some time ago, and contemplated nothing more formidable than combinations. The Rosenfelds have long been looking for an uptown house. They had designs upon the Broadway, upon Daly's, and they also looked in other directions. Their search is now ended. They have me house at Fifth avenue and city. twenty-eighth street. It is understood that when Signora Duse returns to this country she will play at the Fifth Avenue; the Liliputians may also be seen there, and the Rosenfelds will probably have other attractions, for it has already been published that they are preparing for the presentation of a new comedy, adapted from the German, and entitled, "Rapid Transit." They have kept the deal very quiet, but it has nevertheless been made known. Miss Coghian ends ber engagement at the Fifth Avenue Saturday night. Mme. Modjeska and her company then appear for two weeks, Saturday night. Mme. Modjeska and her company their appear for two weeks, after which Miss Katherine Clemmons begins a four weeks' engagement in "A Lady of Venice." After that the Rosenfelds step in and claim the house. New Yorkers may expect a great deal from this arrangement, for the gentlemen in question have already shown their lavish hand and their discretion in the matter of productions.

Among the Knights of Labor in this city the matter, leaving how the open unions, and only agitate for independent political action. The Mains Federation of Labor at its meeting yesterday in Portland, elected W. H. Leyseth. Presidents O. E. Ballard, Treasurer; F. H. Hitch, Secretary.

And and their discretion in the matter of productions.

It appears that "a clever young English actor," who is now touring in America, has written to England that "so many English companies have gone out to the States lately that he would strongly advise no other English combination to go over there for at least three or four years, more especially as there is at present a growing dislike against English companies. Money is very tight and scarce; indeed, many of the first class companies have had to suddenly terminate their seasons." That's interesting But who can the "clever young actor" be? And has he heard of Irving or Willard, or the Kendais?

The performances by women of "As You Like It," at the Garden Theatre next week, will give employment to almost one hundred women of the stage who are at present disengaged, and the profits will go to the Professional Women's League. In the cast will be Mme. Janauschek, Mary Shaw, Maude Banks, and nearly all the ladies who took part in the special matinee at Palmer's last November.

Harry B. Smith, the librettist of "Robin Hood," "The Fencing Master" and "The Knickerbockers," has written a comedy which is to be circulated in a "privately printed edition." It is called that the subtrank our stars that Mr. Smith in the exuberance of his airy familiarity did not make it Bill, or Billy Shakespeare, the same of the companient of the characters include the Bard, Sir There was a matinee performance of a farcical comedy in three acts, adapted from the French, by Mrs. C. A. Doremus and M. T. Stone, and called "A Full Hand," given by "Miss Lione's Company of Students" (nhem) at the Madison Square Theatre yesterday. The programme gave a nice but quite unecessary description of what these students were, and what their object was, and so on. It appears that "every production will be, in all its details, under the sole direction of Miss Amy Lionel." The question naturally arises—who is Miss Amy Lionel? But it is not solved, "A Full Hand" contained some brightines and some stitutioned some brighting some stitutions and some stitutioned some brightines and some stitutioned some bri be no answer to simply repeat the

There is a rumor that Sir Arthur Sullivan may come to this country to be present at the first performance of his latest comic opera, "Utopia, Limited." The rumor is generally discredited. The reports of the reception accorded to "Utopia" will probably be cabled to him at Monte Carlo, a resort of which he is very food.

Augustin Daly has "struck ile" at last, in London. They are raving over his production of "Twelfth Night," and over the Viola of Miss Ada Rehan. Her praises are sung in the most extravagant manner, but she is the only member of the organization who is treated with more than ordinary courtesy. The success of "Twelfth Night" will remove much of the sting that Mr. Daly's less fortunate ventures in London have given him.

An Irish drama called "The O'Neili," by William Greer Harrison, is to be

There will be several interesting it features. The Ladies' Art Association will tand place on sale a large collection of ags. There will also be an exhibition or the mementos and reites. The other usual se of a fair, including pretty girls, will also ind. Creedon at the Garden Feb. 3, and Mike Donovan's show at Lenox Lyceum, Feb. 17. All of these should be good shows Vernon and Ernst are as well known to local puglistic followers as Creedon and Fitz are to the country at large. Mike Donovan has an unusually attractive programme arranged for his show. There will be eight or ten bouts, all four rounds, including the following: Frank Craig vs. Frank Baker; Joe Harmon vs. "Bull" McCarthy, of Filladelphia; Billy Ahearn vs. Al O'Brien; Billy Vernon vs. Billy Murray; George Reynolds vs. Faddy McCarthy, and Con Coughlin vs. Jack Gray.

The latter is said to be fully as big as Coughlin, so this ought to be an interesting set-to. A bout may be arranged between Maxey Haugh and Tim Murphy. It will be seen that the whole scale of weights will be represented.

The constant growth of Harvard and the content of the constant growth of Harvard and free.

The constant growth of Harvard and the consequent erection of new buildings has in the last ten years so encroached upon the athletic fields of the University that it is evident that in a few years all athletics will be removed to Soldiers' Field. This field is situated on the bank of the Charles River, and in the past has been used only by the Harvard football teams during secret practice. In anticipation of such removal the funds necessary for the erection of a new athletic house have been subscribed and work on the building has already begun. It will be built in the form of a hollow square, and will essentially be a locker house, since it will contain over 2,000 lockers. The house will be two stories high, and will be fitted with rooms for the accommodation of both the 'Varsity and visiting teams. The building will be furnished with hot and cold water, heated by steam, and unusually light and alry. Back of the main building will be a separate house, which will contain dry rooms and heating apparatus.

A double triumph was earned by Company F, Seventh Regiment, last night, when its team of sharp-shooters rolled up the fine score of 1.088 in the competition for the Kemp trophy, beating all armory records, and when, later, after drill, the company enjoyed its annual "smoker" in Central Turn Verein Hall. "Hig Six." as Company F is best known, never gave a more enjoyable entertainment. Capt. George W. Kand was deservedly complimented on all sides, and Quartermaster-Sergeant "Lance" Wilson, in charge of the vaude-ville entertainment, came in for the heartiest cheers of the "boys." The invited guests included Gen. Louis Fitzgerald, Col. Daniel Appleton, and the most of his staff. The talent was of a superior order, and secured from B. F. Keith's Union Square Theatre and Tony Pastor's.

The Boston Athletic Association has invited the University of Pennsylvania to send a team to compete in the relay race with Yale and Harvard in the big indoor meet at Boston Feb. 10. The Invitation will probably be accepted. The B. A. A. meeting gives promise of being the greatest ever held as far as that growing and very popular sport, teamracing, is concerned. Amherst and Dartmouth will have a team competing as well as the New York A. C. and Boston A. A. and Worcester and Suffolk Athletic Clubs. The Harvard team will be composed of Merrill, Hill, Bingham and Collamore. Some Harvard men will probably be found on the boston A. A. team. The N. Y. A. C. team will be Billings, Sands, Lyons and Allen.

Though the Corbett-Mitchell contest is now the theme of discussion in sporting circles, the big testimonial to be tendered to Billy Madden next Sunday evening at the Windsor Theatre is attracting considerable interest. ended in a draw. Both men stripped far above weight and were in only ordinary condition. Griffo forced the work from the start, although Van Hoest maderoveral ineffectual rushes in the opening round. Griffo's cleverness was too much for Van Heest, and he had the worst of it throughout. He narrowly missed landing his dangerous right-hand swings a half dozen times. The fast work told on him, and towards the end he weakened perceptibly. In the last round Griffo partly knocked and partly pushed him to the floor, where he took his full time. The men agreed that if both were able to continue at the end of the sixth round it would be declared a draw.
